

DESIGN DOYENNE
After celeb homes
and New York lofts,
interior designer
Jamie Jackson
took on the Hokuu.

THE MAIN ACT

Expert Appeal Interior designer Jamie Jackson's projects have included hip New York lofts and luxe Caribbean resorts, but her core work remains in Hawai'i. She's done celeb vacation homes, including Ben Stiller and Christine Taylor's Kaua'i residence, as well as chic condos. In Jackson's opinion, Honolulu is, in particular, the most livable American city. "We have a unique set of people from all over the world, and I love that," she says. Regarded as one of Hawai'i's top interior designers, Jackson creates modern and elegant spaces with splashes of color and vibrant art. For a condo at the sleek Hokuu tower, she even designed her own dining room table, then accented the space with works from local artists Mayumi Oda and Doug Britt. 420 Ward Ave., Suite 220, Kaka'ako, 593.9330, jamiejacksondesign.com
